A Glimpse

I was sent a video clip of Chuck McCallister last week. Chuck is an avid outdoorsman and minister. He runs Promise of Hope and Adventure Bound Outdoors. The video was of Chuck speaking at a Silverdale Baptist Church wild game dinner.

McCallister said that hunters and anglers get a glimpse of Heaven when in the outdoors. This statement got me to thinking about all the glimpses I have had over the years of being outdoors. The glimpses are what keep me going back! I look forward to the full view!

Where do I start on all the memorable glimpses?

It's a beautiful sunrise over a great duck hunting hole. The way all the colors of the sun reflect off the water is breathtaking. The quiet serenity before all the world wakes up and gets moving is an unbelievable peace!

It's the quiet sit in a tree stand, waiting for the sun to rise. The vast number of stars that God has hung! The smell of the cool night air just before the sun comes up!

It's the excitement you feel when a deer comes walking in! The way you can hear your heart beating in your ears! The shortness of breath you feel due to the exhilaration.

It's a cold snowy morning sit. The way the pure white snow that covers the landscape. A beauty that has cold chills run up your neck!

I love being outdoors. I love the hunt and the harvest. I hunt not for the kill but for those little glimpses of the future ahead. Those little glimpses are what gives life a purpose.

I understand those little glimpses are not even going to compare to the full light of glory! I don't hide my love for Jesus! I will never make excuses about who I am and what I believe! I don't question if Heaven is real! I know it's real because of the little glimpses the Good Lord has given me over the years being outdoors! I believe without doubt, there are two types of eternal life! One is a peace that can't wrap our minds around and the other is a torment we can't wrap our mind around!

I want to finish this column with a couple of questions for you!

1. Have you noticed those little glimpses in your life that the Lord Jesus has given you?

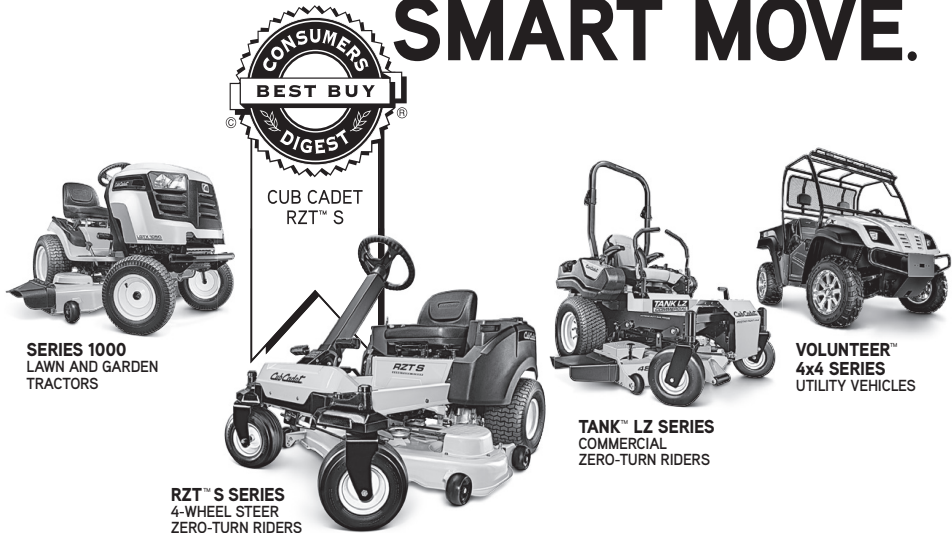

2. Is your life in order so you will get the full view of Heaven one day?

Until next week, get out and enjoy God's creation and keep your eyes open for those little glimpses!

Seed Blends
I use a good seed blend as a base to stretch out the more expensive seed like hulled sunflower chips. I look for a blend that contains black oil sunflower seed, safflower seed and white stripe sunflower seed. Then when I mix in sunflower chips, every bird is happy.
