

Lady Patriots Pick Up Three Conference Wins

by MIKE WISEMAN
The Estill County Tribune
 Last week the ECMS Lady Patriots basketball team traveled to Red Foley Middle School in Berea hoping to bring home 3 big conference wins. The 6th grade team ran into a buzz saw against a well coached and disciplined Foley team. Turnovers and poor shooting plagued the ladies through the first three quarters, but a high spirited effort in the fourth showed there is no quit in these girls. The 7th grade team however, strutted their stuff to the tune of a 21-10 halftime lead. In the second half, Foley decided to defend their home court and out scored Estill 18-10. The inside force of Taylor Duechle and Amelia Farmer battled foul trouble the entire second half but the Lady Pats held their composure and came out on top, 31-28. The 8th grade team also found themselves in a slug fest and battled their way to a tough 28-22 conference road victory.

Thursday night found ECMS hosting the Lady Pirates from Berea. The 6th graders fought out of an early 7-0 hole to eventually send the game into overtime, but the inside size of Berea was too much to overcome.

Throw in 5 for 18 from the FT line and failing to score in the OT and Estill took the long walk to the locker room. The 7th grade team came out on fire and took an early 12-2 lead, but ugly play the rest of the half kept Estill's lead at 9 points. Coaches Hughes, Young, and Long must have peeled the wallpaper at half-time because the ladies came out and outscored Berea 28-1 in the second half. Estill's 8th graders must have had the same script from the game before as they found themselves behind by 2 at halftime. A second half blitzkrieg of 24-6 led Estill to a nice home conference win.

CORRECTION!!!!

Last week, I accidentally left 2 girls names off of the 6th grade roster. Those ladies were Mary Robinson and Cheyenne Kilgore. My apologies to Mary and Cheyenne.

Leon Roberts of Irvine shows off some of his watermelons and cantaloupes he grew in Estill County. Roberts says these are the biggest cantaloupes he has raised.

Rain Doesn't Stop Annual Profitt Reunion

A powerful thunderstorm that passed across the Estill-Powell county line on Saturday around noon did not stop the annual Profitt Family Reunion held at Carl and Teddy McIntosh's "Shelter Valley" on Watson Ridge near Furnace.

Several of the reunion goers were stopped by trees fallen across the road but the chain saws came and and were followed by the sunshine and a good time.
