A recycling bin has been set up at Price Less Foods for customers to bring in their plastic shopping bags and recycle them for the Back Pack Buddies program. This program helps to feed hungry children in the community. Left to right, Jordyn Rose, Bethany Hall, and Paige Horn are helping collect the bags as part of their FCCLA project, "Change Plea$. The bags collected will be taken back to the schools and filled with food.

On Monday, Judge Executive Wallace Taylor signed a Proclamation declaring February 9th-February 13th, National Family, Career and Community Leaders of America week. Kennedy Flynn, right, and Kaylee Isfort, co-Presidents of FCCLA, were on hand for the signing of the document. FCCLA is a student organization for Family and Consumer Sciences that helps youth assume their roles in society in areas of personal growth, family life and community involvement. The organization extends classroom learning through chapter projects that develop leadership and initiative and helps young men and women learn how to plan, make decisions as they work with youth and adults in their school and community.
