Fall's Arrival

The 1st day of fall was actually September 22, but it has felt more like summer with the 80 degree temperatures we have experienced the past two weeks.

This morning, the temperature is very comfortable; it actually feels like fall. The crisp air is always welcome, and like nature, I'm ready for a much needed rest. Nature's actions are filled with autumn's splendor. People from the cities like to travel to the mountains to see the leaves.

The colors in the fall in Kentucky, Tennessee and the surrounding mountain states are magnificent . . . cranberry reds, lime greens, and perfect yellows seem fluorescent in the direct sunlight. The evergreens' hues become deeper and even bright pumpkins seem lighter orange next to the bright orange leaves.

There are sounds of autumn too. Trees creak when the winds blow, the streams seem noisier, full and rushing, without the greenery to soften its roar.

In the distance, geese, ducks and wild turkeys squawk. Crisp leaves rustle under foot when we step. Even our house makes strange noises as the dry air blows against the logs. Acorns and hickory nuts are falling. Acorns are hitting our roof at night; sounds like a bomb. Actually, one night we thought someone was knocking on the door but it was acorns hitting the tin roof.

Newly cut wood smells great now; even the early morning fog and dew-covered pine trees have their own fresh scent. Soon we will enjoy a crackling fire, and the delicious scent of hot apple pie and apple cider will fill the house. Makes me hungry just thinking about those fried apple pies like my Mom used to make.

It is time to get in the cool weather crops such as turnips, mustard, collards, cabbage and kale. We begin to store the dried apples and beans for fried apple pies and leather britches, otherwise known as shuck beans.

Digging potatoes is a fall ritual, too. The smell of fried potatoes and a baked sweet potato with lots of butter and brown sugar don't sound bad either. Corn bread and a pot of green beans cooked with streaked meat is good too.

It's October when the harvest moon glows and the hunter's horn blows, winter lies just around the corner.

Soon we will snuggle into bed at night with warm quilts and drift into a gentle sleep . . . at peace with nature's changers.

Oh! The wonders of fall. Only God could create such as beautiful place in all seasons.

Unstoppable God Youth Revival

Boone's Creek Baptist Association is sponsoring a first-ever youth revival on October 1, 2, and 3rd beginning at 7:00 p.m. each night at the Boone's Creek Baptist Association and camp located at 1306 Trapp-Goff's Corner Road, Winchester, KY. Two worship pastors will be joining for a time of praise and worship. Testimonies will be shared and God's Message of Hope will be delivered by two pastors who have served as camp pastors the past two summers at Boone's Creek Baptist Camp.

The event will take place on the softball field at the camp. If it rains, the event will be moved in the gymnasium. Corinth Baptist Church has graciously offered their parking lot for all who attend, which is located next to the camp. Additional parking will also be available around the camp grounds. There will be parking attendants and volunteers directing traffic to ensure everyone gets in and out at the event safely. All provisions will be made to observe social distancing and Covid-19 precautions.

We know our nation needs revival. We know that God can send a great revival. We ask that you pray and invite others to this event. It is a youth revival. However, everyone is welcome to attend.

In preparation for this event, Salem Baptist Church will be hosting an Associational Prayer Gathering for the Youth Revival on Saturday, September 26th from 10am-noon. It will take place outdoors at Salem's Pavilion located behind the church. Please make plans to attend this prayer gathering as we seek God's sending of revival. For more information, please contact Boone's Creek Baptist Association at 859-744-0037. You can also check out the association's Facebook page.
