Stone Coal Memorial Service Canceled

The annual Stone Coal Cemetery Memorial Service again canceled for 2021

The board of directors of Stone Coal Cemetery, located on Farmers Ridge (KY 587) in Lee County, has decided to cancel this year's annual memorial service due to lingering concerns over COVID-19. The service is held annually the Sunday of Memorial Day weekend and was also not held last year because of the virus.

Family members are encouraged to pay their respects to loved ones buried in the cemetery individually again this year, with hopes that the service can be held as normal in 2022.

The cemetery relies totally on individual contributions from relatives of those interred for upkeep and maintenance. Since the cancelation of the service means that a collection cannot be taken at the cemetery, donations should be mailed to the cemetery's treasurer, Dorsey Creech, 211 Bradshaw Hills Road, McKee KY 40447.

Kentucky Board of EMS

Celebrating National EMS Week

The Kentucky Board of Emergency Medical Services (KBEMS) will celebrate EMS Week, May 17-21, following the national theme for this year's campaign, "This is EMS: Caring for Our Communities."

"Now more than ever, it is important that we honor and celebrate our EMS professionals who are supporting the health and well-being of our nation," said KBEMS Executive Director Michael Poynter. "The EMS family has been, and is still, rallying to continue to support those affected by the COVID-19 crisis, all while still managing to respond to the emergencies and challenges that occur in our communities on a daily basis."

This year, EMS Week may not be able to be recognized in the traditional sense; however, KBEMS has launched a heavy social media campaign that will focus on topics like EMS education; safety; EMS for children; physical and mental well-being; Stop-the-Bleed and public CPR; recognitions of fallen and current heroes; and more.

"Many people see us strictly as a regulatory agency," said KBEMS Marketing Manager Greg Hiles. "However, we're extremely thankful and fortunate to be a part of the EMS family, and the best and most important part of our jobs is to be able to highlight all of the excellent things all professionals can achieve when they work together."

Individuals can learn how to participate in the KBEMS EMS Week 2021 Social Engagement campaign at kyems.com/emswweek, which features tons of easy ways to get the celebration started.

KBEMS also encourages everyone to help us recognize the EMS profession beyond just this special time. After all, we are all better when we work together.
