NOAA' Winter Outlook for Kentucky

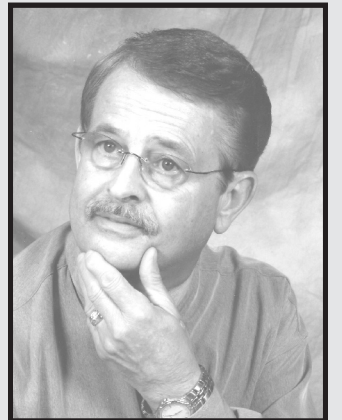

El Nino was the buzzword last winter, and it's opposite La Nina is expected to have some influence on the winter conditions across the U.S. and Kentucky for this upcoming winter. What does that mean for east Kentucky? Here are the key points from the NOAA Climate Prediction Center's U.S. Winter Outlook:

- There is a greater than normal likelihood of above normal temperatures this winter across eastern Kentucky.
- While northern Kentucky stands a greater than normal likelihood of seeing above normal precipitation this winter, further south over eastern Kentucky there is no clear signal with equal chances of above normal, normal and below normal precipitation.
- Drought conditions have expanded into much of eastern Kentucky this fall, however, improvement in the drought is expected into the early winter months.
- Even though warmer than normal temperatures are expected for the winter as a whole, significant winter storms and arctic outbreaks are still possible. While the seasonal outlook does not project snowfall amounts, there is a weak signal for above average snowfall across eastern Kentucky during La Nina winters.

Estill County Memorial Service

A Memorial Service honoring and remembering those from Estill County who died during the past year will be held at Irvine First Christian Church on Main Street in Irvine on Monday, November 7 at 7 p.m.

This service is sponsored by Marcum and Wallace Memorial Hospital, in conjunction with the Estill County Ministerial Association.

This Memorial Service will include scripture readings, reflections by Ministers from our local churches, and the reading of the names of the each loved one who has died. The memorial will be held in the context of an inter-faith, Christian worship service.

Family members of the deceased, as well as the general public, are invited to attend. You do not need to call and sign up to attend.

Please join us as we remember those who have so recently been a part of our lives and whose deaths we recall in the light of the Resurrection.
