"Dad, I can read my own fake news on the internet now!"

Maudie's Naughties

Man At The Bar

Joe is sitting in a bar when another man comes in and sits down next to him. The bartender goes over to the man and asks, "What can I get for you today, (small donkey)?"

The man orders his drink and the bartender hands it to him, saying, "Will there be anything else, (small donkey)?" "No," replies the man. "I'll be fine."

The bartender walks away, so Joe gets curious about what the bartender had called the man.

"Why do you let him call you a name like that?" asks Joe. The man replies, "Heal...heal...healways callsmethat!"

Football Confession

Years ago, the chaplain of the football team at Notre Dame was a beloved old Irish priest. At confession one day, a football player tells the priest that he had acted in an un-sportsmanlike manner at a recent football game. "I lost my temper and said some bad words to one of my opponents."

"Ahhh, that's a terrible thing for a Notre Dame lad to be doin'," the priest says. He takes a piece of chalk and draws a mark across the sleeve of his coat.

"That's not all, Father. I got mad and punched one of my opponents."

"Saints preserve us!" the priest says, making another chalk mark.

"There's more. As I got out of a pileup, I kicked two of the other team's players in the... in a sensitive area."

"Oh, goodness me!" the priest wails, making two more chalk marks on his sleeve. "Who in the world were we playin' when you did these awful things?"

"Southern Methodist."

"Ah, well," says the priest, wiping his sleeve, "Boys will be boys."

Three Old Ladies

Three old ladies are sitting in a diner, chatting about various things. One lady says, "You know, I'm getting really forgetful. This morning, I was standing at the top of the stairs, and I couldn't remember whether I had just come up or was about to go down."

The second lady says, "You think that's bad? The other day, I was sitting on the edge of my bed, and I couldn't remember whether I was going to bed or had just woken up!"

The third lady smiles smugly. "Well, my memory's just as good as it's always been, knock wood." She raps the table.

With a startled look on her face, she asks, "Who's there?"

Stripping

Pa is passing by Farmer Green's barn one morning when he notices through the open door that Green is doing a slow and sensual striptease in front of his old Massey Ferguson tractor. He performs a slow pirouette and gently slides off first to the right, then to the left. Green then hunches his shoulders forward and in a classic striptease move, lets his braces fall down from his shoulders to dangle by his hips over his corduroy trousers. Grabbing both sides of his checked shirt, he rips it apart to reveal his tea stained vest underneath and with a final flourish he hurls his cap on to a pile of hay.

"What on earth are you doing, Green?" says Pa.

"Well," says Green "Me and the Missus been having some trouble lately in the bedroom department and the therapist suggested I do something sexy to a tractor!"

Late For Work

For thirty years, Johnson had arrived at work at 9:00 a.m., on the dot. He had never missed a day and was never late. Consequently, when on one particular day, 9:00 a.m. passed without Johnson's arrival, it caused a sensation. All work ceased and the boss himself, looking at his watch and muttering, comes out into the corridor. Finally, precisely at ten, Johnson shows up, clothes dusty and torn, his face scratched and bruised, his glasses bent.

He limps painfully to the time clock, punches in, and says, aware that all eyes are upon him, "I tripped and rolled down two flights of stairs in the subway. Nearly killed myself."

The boss says, "And to roll down two flights of stairs took you an entire hour?"

Left On The Bus

On the first day of school, the bus driver picks up his children at school, then makes his rounds, letting them off at their respective stops. But when he gets to the end of the route he realizes that he has one small boy, a kindergarten student, who is still on the bus. So, the driver retraces his route, stopping at each street and asking the child if he recognizes his house. Finally, they get back to the school, and the driver tells him, "We have to go inside the school and find out where you live."

"I live right there," says the boy, pointing to a house across the street. "I just always wanted to ride in a school bus."

Letter to the Editor:

Christmas on Glory Street with the Calvary Heirs

Dear Editor:

Christmas on Glory Street with the Calvary Heirs was a wonderful night to celebrate the Reason for the season. Special thanks to Calvary Baptist Church for hosting the event and providing the chili supper. "Christmas on Glory Street" would not have been possible without the talented musicians from the Calvary Heirs. We cannot thank Bill Eckler II, Bonnie Eckler, Bill Singleton and Deo Young enough for putting on such a spectacular show with so much heart and entertainment. With over 180 people in attendance, the event raised over $1,300 to support the Marcum & Wallace Hospital Foundation 3D mammography campaign; to bring the latest breast cancer screening technology to the hospital radiology department. Santa Claus stopped by for surprise visit for pictures and treat bags with apples and oranges for the children, donated by Save-A-Lot in Irvine. Thank you to our media partners (Estill Tribune, CV&T, Irvine Community TV, "Come on Home" WSKV, and WCBR.) This event would have never been possible without the hard work and support of so many people. Merry Christmas!

Susan Starling, MWMH President and CEO; Penny West, MWMH Foundation Board Chair and Arielle Estes, MWMH Foundation Director
