Maudie's Naughties

Married For Money

Casey marries a rich widow, but they don't get along. One day she says to him, "If it wasn't for my money, that new television wouldn't be here. If it wasn't for my money, that grand piano wouldn't be here. If it wasn't for my money, this house wouldn't be here."

Casey mumbles, "If it wasn't for your money, I wouldn't be here."

Getting Along

An Irish couple, whose married bliss was not without a few "squalls" received a humble lecture from their priest regarding their disgraceful quarrels.

"Why, that dog and cat you have agree better than you two."

"If yer reverence'll tie them together, ye'll soon change yer mind."

Well Fixed Widow

Some years ago, a successful New York contractor, was standing on the deck of the Staten Island Ferry when a car got loose and sent him into the river where he drowned. The following Sunday his widow, all decked out in deepest black, is standing on the church steps after the funeral, receiving condolences, when an old friend of the contractor comes up.

"I'm sorry, Mary, for your trouble," offers the friend. "Did he leave you well fixed?"

"Oh, he did!" she replies. "He left me almost a half million dollars."

"Well now, that's not bad for a man who couldn't read or write."

"Nor swim either," adds the widow.

Dog Training

A man is standing on the corner with his big fuzzy dog when the dog raises his leg and wets on the man's trouser leg. The man reaches in his pocket and takes out a doggie biscuit.

A busybody who had been watching, runs up to him and says, "You shouldn't do that. He'll never learn anything if you reward him when he does something like that!"

The man replies, "I'm not rewarding him. I'm just trying to find his mouth so that I can kick him in the rump!"

Another Genie Story

One day Mitsy, Barbie and Bambi go to the top of a water slide in a swimming pool. When they get to the top a genie appears from nowhere and says, "When you're going down the slide, shout out the one thing that you want and you will land in it at the bottom. So Mitsy goes down and shouts "money" and lands in a load of cash. Barbie slides down and shouts "gorgeous men!" and lands among a pile of men. Barbie wasn't listening to the genie and, surprised by the slide, yells "crap."

Check The Mail

Bambi goes out to check her mail box. There is nothing in it. Her neighbor who is also out there gives her a weird look. An hour later Bambi goes back out to her mailbox and goes back in 'cause there is nothing in it. Her neighbor wonders, "What the heck is she doing?" An hour later Bambi goes back outside and looks in the mailbox and there is nothing in it. Finally the neighbor gets curious enough to ask her what she is doing. Bambi says, "My stupid computer keeps saying, I've got mail."

Better Than The Others

Mitsi comes home from school one day and says to her mom, "I can count higher than all the kids in my second grade class, do you think it is because I am a blonde?"

Her mother replies, "Of course it is, dear."

The next day, Mitsi says, "I can say the alphabet higher than anyone in my class, do you think it is because I am a blonde?"

Her mother replies, "Of course it is dear!"

The next day, Mitsi comes home from her gymnastics and asks her mother, "I have a bigger bust than all the girls in my class, do you think it's because I am a blonde?"

Her mother replies, "No dear, I think it is because you are eighteen years old."

Marriage Proposal

Ma and Pa go for a stroll down the holler. They sit down on a bank to rest and overhear voices coming from a secluded spot. Suddenly, Ma realizes that a young man is about to propose. Not wanting to eavesdrop at such an intimate moment, she nudges Pa and whispers, "Whistle and let that young couple know that someone can hear them."

"Whistle?" says Pa. "Why should I whistle? Nobody whistled to warn me."

Safety is school district's first priority

Estill County School District Announces "Stop! Tipline . . . Report Bullying Online"

Safety is our first priority. In an effort to use every able resource to STOP bullying and other risky behaviors in our schools, the Estill County School District proudly announces the implementation of the "Safety Tipline Online Prevention" or STOP! Tipline. The STOP! Tipline is designed for use as an "online" reporting/prevention tool which is provided free by the Kentucky Center for School Safety. If students, parents or community members know of an unsafe situation in school (bullying, weapons, drugs or alcohol, etc.), they can anonymously pass on that information to school personnel by using this basic email format.

"Our hope is that, students who fear face-to-face reporting of bullying or other safety issues may be less reluctant to share this vital information when offered an 'online' option," says Jeff Saylor, Superintendent of Estill County Schools, "by giving students the ability to report concerns over their tablets, computers or mobile phones, we can reach more students and address problems before they escalate." The process for using the tip line involves locating the STOP Tipline logo on the home page of any of the district or school websites (<http://www.estill.kyschools.us>). Immediately, students or community members can anonymously report bullying, violence, risky behavior or other safety concerns to school personnel by using a basic email format. Tips can be left anonymously or students may choose to have someone contact them. More information can be found about the tip line at www.kycss.org/stop/about.php

The announcement of the STOP! Tipline aligned with the Kentucky Safe Schools Week theme this year "I Want to be a School Safety Superhero". By using the tip line any student can become a "Silent Hero". www.kysafeschools.org/ssw.php

"This tip line is just another powerful tool in our arsenal against bullying, harassment and other unsafe behaviors in our schools.

Our Comprehensive Safe School Plan is ever evolving to keep our students and staff safe and we are using every resource available to do so," says Saylor.
