Will You Make A Stand?

I was flipping through the channels and caught "Zero Dark Thirty" on. The movie about getting Bin Laden. I thought, what courage Seal Team 6 had that night. They were willing to give their lives for this country.

I know a young man who has had some hard knocks in life. He has not let that slow him down. He works hard every day trying to work his way back to the top. He has no health insurance because it's not in the budget yet. When he got an abscess tooth he went to check on maybe getting some Obama Care. He was told he was making too much to qualify for Obama Care, BUT if he quit his job he could get immediate free health care. He could get food stamps. He could get housing assistance. He told them he would keep his job and they could keep the free stuff!

A guy who is like a brother to me went to purchase a gun the other day. This guy lost a son in Iraq and nearly lost his life in Iraq. He has given a lot to this country, BUT his background check put a hold on his purchase for several days because he is a war veteran.

This President has now put men in the women's bathroom. While Islamic terrorism is happening daily, instead of making our Military stronger, he makes a joke out of it. Now transgender is ok in the military, BUT saying radical Islam is bad. Pretty sure killing a radical Jihadist, in his head, should be a crime.

The guys of Seal Team 6 were willing to give their life for this country. What are you willing to risk to stop this craziness that has invaded our country? Your career? Your life? Will you make a stand? Christians, are you willing to be a martyr for your stance?

The way I see it, the country is in a downward spiral and if we don't take a stand it will all be lost. Hard times are coming if we don't make a stance. The freedom we love could be lost in just a few years if we sit idly by because we are afraid to make a stand. Our Freedom has come via the blood of soldiers and we are going to give up to the government out of fear. One other thing I have a hard time these days with, God Bless America! Until America starts blessing God again we have lost our hedge of protection provided by God!

Until next week, get out and enjoy God's creation!

Beefriendly

Please plant some flowers that bees like to visit. Some favorites are pentas, daisies, marigolds, bee balm and thistle. You also can buy flower seed mixes specifically for bees. I love watching bees. They are nice to have around and are very important to our environment.

seeds of Hope

"There's no shortage of writings on the subject of leadership," said the author of an article in a business magazine. Perhaps it is because we are facing so much economic and financial insecurity. Everyone is looking for a way to reorganize their thinking about how we can recover what we have lost.

Another wrote, "The increasing rate of change is causing people a lot of fear. Facing the rapid rate of change in world markets is causing uncertainty and fear and people don't know what to believe."

"People need something that will give them safety and answer their questions about what is going to happen next," said a professor of economics. "Leaders and managers are looking for the 'silver bullet' to solve their problems, but there is none available," said a consultant.

One leader sounded foolish, even silly. He wrote, "Lead me to the Rock that is higher than I." But he, of all of the leaders who have taken their places in history, knew exactly what he was talking about.

From his experience as a shepherd and a king, a warrior and a parent, he had discovered that the Lord alone was able to lead him, to give him answers, provide solutions to his problems and enable him to make good decisions. He looked to his Leader, the Lord God of Israel who had led His people into paths of prosperity and peace. He looked to the ultimate Leader who had proven Himself "right" since the beginning of time.
