The Estill County High School Soccer Season came to a bitter end last week as both the Lady Engineers and the Boys Team suffered losses in the Regional Tournament.

The Lady Engineers would come up one win shy of advancing to the state tournament after they fell to Perry County Central in the Regional Finals, 2-0.

In a tough defensive game, PCC scored first with 6:01 remaining in the first. They scored the second time with 21:48 in the second half. Despite several Estill runs at the goal in the final minutes they could not score.

Named to the 14th Region All-Tournament Team for Estill were sophomore Kalea Hatton, senior goal keeper Savannah Brewer, and juniors Amelia Farmer and Billie Brooks.

The Boys Team would suffer their loss to Hazard in opening round play of the tourney, 2-0.

Both soccer teams had excellent seasons even if their records do not show it. They represented our school and city with extreme class and sportsmanship. Congratulations!!!

Estill Marching Engineers are EAST REGION CHAMPIONS!

This past weekend, the Marching Engineers entered post season competition by returning to Bourbon County to compete in Class AA East Region Quarterfinals.

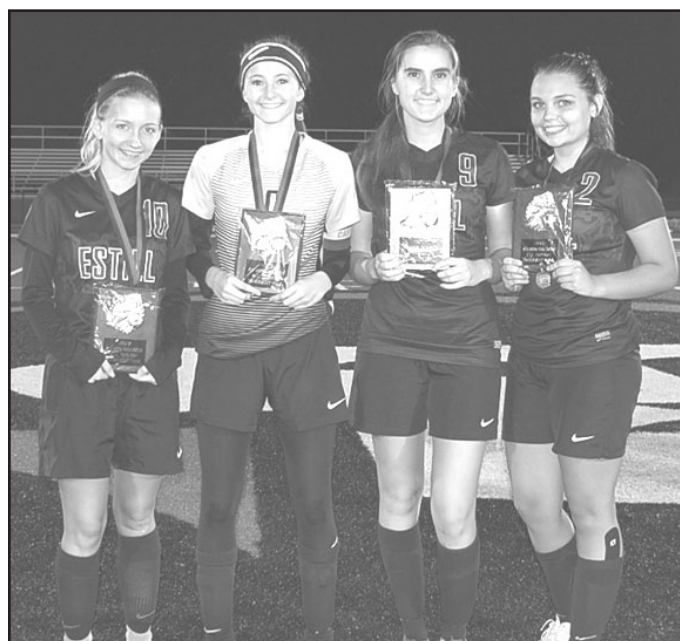

The field consisted of every Class AA band in the East region that qualified. From this event, the top 8 bands from the region would advance to State competition this coming Saturday in Louisville.

The Marching Engineers had a very solid performance and out scored ALL other bands in the region.

The band placed first in every caption on the score sheet and the second place band (Garrard County) was nearly four points behind.

Semifinals competition will take place this Saturday at Elizabethtown High School. Semifinals is the "Sweet 16", as the top 8 bands from the East, and the top 8 bands from the West are represented. From this group, only four will be chosen to perform in State Finals at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium that evening.

Engineers Lose to Knott County Central, 48-34

The Estill County Engineers Football team saw their season record drop to 2-7 after a disappointing loss on the road to Knott County Central. The Engineers were dealt a dose of their own medicine in ball control as KCC nearly doubled Estill's total plays. Estill would hold their own in the rushing department but were out-gained by 226 yards through the air.

Justin Stamper would help keep Estill close in the first half with touch-down runs of 5 and 12 yards and the Engineers would trail 16-14. Estill would continue to keep things tight in the third quarter behind Stamper's third rushing score of the night and an eighteen yard scamper by Logan Beckler. KCC would put up three TDs in the fourth quarter to blow the game open while QB J.T. O'Hair's 1 yard plunge would be Estill's only score in the final stanza.

The Engineers will close out their season this Friday night as they travel to take on a strong Lexington Christian team and try to gain their third win of the season. Come out and support your Engineer Football Team. GO BIG BLUE!!!

Offensive Stats: Rushing- L.Beckler- 12 att 154 yds 1 TD, J.Stamper - 12 att 131 yds 3 TD.

Defensive Stats: L.Beckler 13 tkl, D.Evans 10 tkl, Fum Rec, E.Williams 10 tkl, J.Stamper 6 tkl.

The Rut

The leaves are falling, and temps are getting cooler. That means the rut is just around the corner. The best time to be in the woods to see a monster buck is real close. The big boys will be out looking for love soon.

I was out a few days ago scouting a new spot and found a fresh scrape. My travels up and down the interstate has revealed where several small bucks have been hit. The young bucks start getting stupid first. Then the big bucks follow suit a week or so later. The big boys will be cruising soon.

This is a great time of year to be in the woods of Kentucky. The feel in the air is hard to put into words. It's just a neat time to be outside as fall is turning into winter. For me it's the time of year that it seems the crazy world we live in slows down.

This time of year, it's easy to see there is a Grand Creator! You can see God's hand at work. The trees are losing their leaves and going to sleep to prepare for winter. The leaves fall to the ground to protect the tree roots from winter weather. The critters running around are getting their winter coat on for the winter. The rut is timed up perfectly so the fawns will be born at the perfect time in the spring. This perfect timing allows for a higher survival of fawns.

I don't think any of the things happening this time of year is by chance. The things happening this time of year is not from evolution. It's all by God's hand that everything is timed up perfectly.

I have heard the saying Feed Your Faith and Starve Your Doubt. If you need some Faith Food just go outside and watch the leaves fall. Take a deep breath of the fall air. I bet your doubts will get real anorexic.

I hope all those going to the woods to deer hunt the best of luck. Always wear your safety harness while in a tree stand. Make sure your shot is safe. While you're sitting in a stand or blind take a moment to take in God's creation!

Until next week, get out and enjoy God's creation!

It may not measure up to Rupp Arena's Scare Fest or Fright Night at Jacobson Park in Lexington, but Irvine First Christian Church on Main Street is gearing up for a fun-packed (and safe) two hours of treats and tradition on Tuesday, October 31. For the past four years, FCC has welcomed trick or treaters ages 0-99+ to be a part of the tradition. Tricksters are greeted on the front steps by a glowing row of pumpkins with the carved message, "Jesus Luvs You." Once inside, visitors continue their journey through the sanctuary lined with tables that present thumbnail versions of well-known Bible events ranging from creation to the birth of Jesus. Live versions of several well-known Bible stories are also depicted as church members dress in character and assume the roles of famous Bible characters, and can be seen mixing with the crowd. Treats will be available at each station. Church minister Greg Humpert welcomes everyone to come and take part in an evening that is fun, free, entertaining and educational. Hours are 6:00 to 8:00 p.m.
