Eddie Price portrays Roscoe Tarleton Goose

Eddie Price will present "Roscoe Tarleton Goose: Kentucky Derby Winner" at the Estill County Public Library, 246 Main Street in Irvine, on Thursday, April 18th at 1:00 p.m.

Roscoe Tarleton Goose, a native of Jeffersontown, Kentucky, began working with horses at a young age and quickly showed his natural abilities. By the age of 19 in 1910, he was one of the leading jockeys in America and the highest-winning jockey at Churchill Downs in Louisville. Three years later, at the age of 22, he rode Donerail to a victory at the Kentucky Derby. The win came as a surprise to the racing world; odds were 91:1 on Goose and Donerail, which still holds the record for longest odds of any Derby winner.

Goose retired from racing in 1915, only two years after his Kentucky Derby win, when his brother was killed while jockeying during a race. However, Goose stayed active in the racing industry. He advocated for the use of helmets to improve jockeys' safety, and many years later, in 1961, he made waves by inviting African-American jockey Jimmy Winkfield into his private booth at Churchill Downs, which was still segregated at the time, for that year's Derby.

Eddie Price of Hawesville, Kentucky, portrays Roscoe Tarleton Goose for the Kentucky Chautauqua program. Price is an author and former high school and college history teacher.

This Kentucky Chautauqua program will be presented free of charge by the Estill County Public Library.
