Eight teachers from Estill travel to Colonial Williamsburg for unique learning opportunity

ers through (Civics History through Advanced Research & Geography Education) traveling to Colonial Williamsburg opportunity to travel to Colonial Wil- to citizen that occurs during the revoluliamsburg for a unique learning opportunity this summer. CHARGE- is KEDC's in content and hands-on activities that latest grant equipping students and teach- highlight the stories of the people who lived and worked in eighteenth-century Williamsburg.

Estill County teachers were able to was a summer learning immersion piece examine how the concept of American to the grant's focus. While in Williams- identity began in the colonial period and burg teachers were able to explore ses- continues to evolve and transform with sions to focus on the daily life of colonial each generation. Through inquiry-based Teachers from Estill County had the Virginians and the transition from subject analysis of primary sources, teachers ex-structional strategies that encourage civil plored how that identity influenced Amer- discourse from multiple perspectives usican citizens to shape and change the Re- ing primary and secondary sources. They public through the 1860s. They were able can create opportunities for continued to identify and analyze four pairs of seem- professional development in social studingly contradictory American values that, ies education with fellow teachers and while in tension, influence the course of Colonial Williamsburg educators. American history.

way historical events from 1765 to 1865 taken them to faraway places! Thanks, Eshas impacted American identity. As a re-till County Educators for your continued

It is fair to share this professional Each teacher was able to evaluate the learning was like no other, and truly has sult, these teachers are able to apply in- dedication to learning and your students!

Pictured above are Estill County teachers: Ashley Friend, Morgan Embry-Worrell, Beth Spradlin, Brandi Smith, Zelicia Hughes, Rachel Newby, and Shayla Carroll, who are part of KEDC's CHARGE Grant.

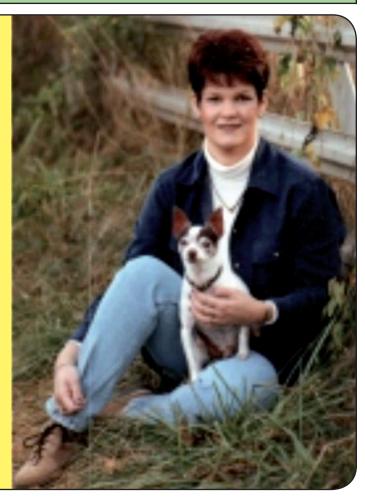

Tim Abney of Irvine shows off his haul of catfish that he caught at Abney's Pay Lake at Hargett which is operated by his brother, Johnny Abney.

Mary Tipton Rucker and her husband, Roscoe Rucker, of Winchester Road in Irvine, continue the tradition set by her mother of raising some delicious vegetables such as the tomatoes and green beans shown above, in the garden behind their house.

Thank You

Sometimes when life seems empty and we feel alone, we discover the importance of the kindness of others. We would like to say, 'thank you,' to everyone for the food, flowers, keepsakes, prayers, and donations of Gideon Bibles. Thank you all for being a light in a dark and difficult time. Everyone's kindness meant so very much and will not be forgotten.

The family of Eva Karen Tevis

The Estill County Engineers football team got a little rough during an open scrimmage by new coach Jordan Marcum's team on Friday night in anticipation of the season opener at Powell County, August 30th.

