Maudie's Naughties

Seduction

A frail, little old lady walks into the police station and says, "Help, I was taken advantage of by a tall, dark, handsome man!"
The cop says, "When?"
She says, "Twenty-three years ago."
The cop says, "What are you telling me now for?"
The little old lady says, "I just like to talk about it once in a while."

Lost in the Gorge

One day, Stupid, Trouble, and Shut Up are hiking in The Gorge when Trouble wanders away from the trail and they can't find him. Well, Stupid and Shut Up do not know what to do so they go to the ranger station. When they get there the ranger asks them their names.
"Shut Up," replies Shut Up.
"Stupid," replies Stupid.
"Excuse Me!" shouts the ranger.
"Shut Up!" "Stupid!"
The ranger is very riled.
He then asks, "Are you looking for trouble?!!!"
Stunned at the idea of the ranger knowing that they are looking for their friend, they reply, "Why yes, how did you know?"

Ride Home

Cowboy Joe gets paid every Friday and immediately rides into town to a bar where he gets plastered, then stumbles out to his horse and rides home.
A couple of his fellow cowhands decide to play a trick on him. While he's in the bar, they turn his horse around; then they sneak back into the bar for a couple more rounds. The next morning, a bucket of cold water thrown on Joe brings him around and he gets up ready to go back to work.

"How was your ride home last night," asks one of the pranksters?
"Not so good," replies Joe. "Somebody sneaked and cut my horse's head off last night, and I had to pull him all the way home with my finger in his windpipe!"

Cycle Accident

Two guys are riding up the road on a motorcycle. The driver wears a leather jacket turned around backwards to block the air. They enter into a sharp curve where the driver loses control and wrecks.
An old farmer who lives nearby calls in the accident.
"Are either of them showing any signs of life?" asks the emergency operator.
"Well, the driver was," answers the farmer, "Until I turned his head around the right way."

Fire School

Farmer Green's wife calls up Ma one day to ask about their cousin Trudy who has enrolled in fire fighting school. "How's she doing," asks Mrs. Green. "I haven't heard from her."
"Well, she was doing pretty good," replies Ma. "Until the class on fire extinguishers. Trudy has a problem pulling the pin. So, the instructor tells her, 'It's just like a hand grenade.' Trudy jerks out the pin and throws the extinguisher at the fire."

Trapped on the Second Floor

Trixie and Mitzie are living on the second floor downtown when a fire breaks out in the business below. Mitzie is at work, but Trixie is at home and is trapped by the fire below. Firemen rush to the scene where they coax Trixie onto the window ledge and tell her to jump into a blanket they are holding.
"No way!" says Trixie. "You guys pulled that trick on me last summer at the beach . . . Just lay the blanket on the ground and I'll jump into it!"

Lifesaver

Aunt Hilda tells Ma how she got a broken arm and four broken ribs when she was trapped by a fire on the second floor a few years ago while living in Norwood, Ohio.
"I was hanging on the ledge with the fire raging below me," says Hilda. "The fire trucks hadn't arrived yet, and there was no escape. Suddenly, from out of the crowd gathered below, a huge professional football player pushes his way to the front and yells for me to jump and he'll catch me."
"I was a little reluctant," continues Hilda. "But he tells me that as a receiver for the football team, he does it all the time with the football and he won't have any trouble catching me . . . So, I jump and he catches me safely in his arms."
"I thought you told me you got a broken arm and four broken ribs?!?!" says Ma.
"Oh," replies Hilda. "That came from when he spiked me to the ground and yelled, 'TOUCH . . . DOWN'."

Letter to the Editor

Resident still fed up with barking dogs

To the Editor:

We need an ordinance. Dog problem is still going on. If other people in the county are having dog barking and dog waste in their yards, let your magistrate and judge know about it. Our property value needs to be reassessed. You need to attend the next fiscal court meeting with me, 3rd Monday of the month, 5:00 o'clock, August 19th.

The last two times I was with the county attorney and county judge, I was advised to take civil action against those dog problems I am having. I draw a small Social Security check. If these two elected officials would give me their monthly checks, I would hire a lawyer. Come on now, help us out.

Thank you, "Boy" Durbin

SCRAMBLERS

Unscramble the letters within each rectangle to form four ordinary words. Then rearrange the boxed letters to form the mystery word, which will complete the gag!

Murder Mystery Dinner Is Coming to Irvine Saturday

Berea, Ky., 22 July 2019— A murder mystery is coming to Irvine.
It's a murder mystery with a Mardi Gras theme, and it's happening Saturday, August 10, 2019 at the Estill County Fair Barn.
With the help of the River City Players Community Theater Group, local organizers are planning a night to remember. With a served meal and lots of drama, guests will enjoy puzzling through the question of who committed murder at the Mardi Gras masquerade ball set in the Garden District Mansion of Pierre and Melissa DuPre.
Tickets are $50 each and include dinner, the murder mystery, and access to the silent auction. RSVPs are requested by August 1 online at hospicecareplus.org or by calling Lauren at 859-986-1500. Tickets may also be purchased at the door. Seating is limited, however, so guests are encouraged to make their reservations by August 1.
This is the 13th year that a local group has hosted an event that raises funds for Hospice Care Plus, Estill County's non-profit provider of hospice, palliative and bereavement care. This year, Sheri Flynn, Erin Leach, Michelle Osborne, Tina Pasley, Regina Robertson, Kathy Samples, Lauren Van Winkle and Amber Venable have outdone themselves.
"Every year, they come up with something original and creative. But, this year, I think they've come up with something truly special," said Chasity Coleman, director of development at Hospice Care Plus.
For more information, contact Lauren at 859-986-1500, visit hospicecareplus.org, or visit the Murder Mystery Dinner at Mardi Gras event page on Facebook.
